Volces of the Ice. The winter of the far north is not wholly silent, although so of the life is manifest at that season. A paragraph from Captain Koldewey's account of his winter's stay on the east coast of Oreenland makes this fact very clear: All these movements of the ice—the gradual crowding and pressing, bending and pushing, the breaking of the masses of snow lying at the "ice foot" -do not go on noiselessly, but are generally accompanied by certain sounds, which are called the "voices" of the

Now we hear a low singing, splashing or grumbling, alternating with various other noises, cracking and snapping; now it sounds irregularly from a great distance, like a confusion of human voices, the changing din of a train or a sledging reast. train or a sledging party, or you fancy you hear the steps and voices of all sorts of animals.

There is a charm in listening to these sounds on a still night.

Smells of Cities. 'A famous English artist insists that each city has its own peculiar odor; that a stranger can smell a city—"the great, blended odor of the entire city." There is truth in his remarks. When m stranger enters Munich, there is a smell as of many breweries—a peculiar, sweetish, yet pungent odor of malt, not at all unpleasant to a beer drinker. After a day or two the smell is not remerical but a few the smell is not remerical but a few the smell is not remarked, but after the stranger leaves the city the smell is distinct in his memory; it exerts a spell; it urges him to drop his work, to take the next steamship. We have not been in Munich for seventeen years, but that sweet smell haunts us still. Paris has a peculiarly individual odor; so has London, so has Berlin, so has Dresden. Boston no doubt has its own smell, which is highly respectable, rather musty, with a suspicion of old family coekroaches.

How Coal Resembles Ice. How Coal Resembles Ice.
The Electrical Review calls attention to an interesting explanation of the burning of coal. Coal petroleum and illuminating gas are related to one another much as are ice, water and steam. For this reason perfect com-bustion of liquid fuel is already advanced a long step toward vaporization, just as ice is advanced toward steam when turned into water. The volatile elements of coal are locked up in solid form, or virtually frozen solid.
Professor Dewar demonstrated how great an amount of heat must be taken from the so called permanent gases to make them liquid and how much more to make them solid. Yet nature has solidified gas into the form of coal, and solid coal, like solid ice, will only olve into vapor through the exnditure of heat

People are so much in the habit of hinking that monkeys are found only In forests that it comes as a surprise to learn of one that bears the name of the crab eating macaque. It is found ogh Burma, Siam and Malay and, living among the trees that line the tidal creeks. The chief food of these animals consists of seeds, insects and crabs. In pursuit of crabs they must take to the water. Use has be come second nature with them, as with other animals, and they are said to be able to swim uncommonly well.

A Certain Cure for Dysentery and Diarrhoea.

"Some years ago I was one of a party that intended making a long bicycle trip," says F. L. Taylor, of New Albany, Bradford county, Pa. "I was taken suddenly with diarrhoea, and was about to give up the trip, when edi-tor Ward, of the Laceyville Messenger, suggested that I take a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I purchased a bottle and took two doses, one before starting and one one the route. I made the trip success-fully, and never telt any ill effect. Again last summer I was almost completely run down with an attack of dysentery. bought a bottle of this same remedy, and this time one dose cured me." sale by Richard Gibson, druggist.

Beware of the Knife.

Beware of the Knife.

No profession has advanced more rapidly of late than surgery, but it should not be used except where absolutely necessary. In cases of piles for example, it is seldom needed. De-Witt's Witch Hazel Salve cures quickly and permanently. Unequalled for cuts, burns, braises, wounds, skin diseases. Accept no counterfeits. "I was so troubled with bleeding piles that I lost much blood and strength," says J. C. Phillips, Paris, Ill. "Dewitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured me in a short time." Soothes and heals. For sale by E.
